

European Migration Network (EMN)

What is the EMN?

A European network whose aim is to provide up-to-date, objective, reliable and comparable information on migration and asylum to support policymaking in the EU. It also provides the general public with such information.

What is the composition of the EMN?

The European Commission (Directorate General Home Affairs - contact: Stephen.Davies@ec.europa.eu) co-ordinates the EMN, assisted by two Service Providers (GHK-COWI: emn@ghkint.com and iLiCONN (emn@intrasoft-intl.com)), in co-operation with National Contact Points (EMN NCPs) in each Member State, and in Norway, who in turn develop a national network consisting of a wide-range of relevant stakeholder organisations.

Each EMN NCP is appointed by their national government, which results in a variety of types of organisation being designated. These are primarily Ministries of Interior and of Justice, plus Research Institutes, Non-Governmental Organisations and in some cases, the national office of an International Organisation.

The EMN Steering Board, chaired by the European Commission and consisting of one representative from each Member State plus Observers from the European Parliament and from Norway, provides strategic guidance on the EMN's activities.

What does the EMN do?

The EMN responds to information needs through Reports, Studies, Ad-Hoc Queries, Policy Briefs (EMN Inform) and Quarterly Reports. It does not normally engage in primary research: instead, its key strength is to collect, document and make available, in an accessible and comparative manner, data and information held or collected at national and EU level. It further analyses and synthesises this information to improve its comparability and harmonisation at EU level. In this way, the EMN makes a valuable contribution to evidence-based policymaking. Dissemination of information takes place primarily via the EMN website and publications.

The EMN has established a multi-level network to aid its activities. On the European level, EMN NCPs meet regularly, as well as networking and collaborating with other European level institutions and organisations. These include the Commission's Eurostat and Research Directorate Generals, the National Contact Points on Integration, the Fundamental Rights Agency (FRA) and the European Asylum Support Office (EASO). The EMN also provides on-going support to the newly launched EU Immigration Portal.

At national level, each EMN NCP develops a network involving partners within their Member State with expertise in migration and asylum from a wide stakeholder group, e.g. from government, (academic) research community, and NGOs. The national networks aim to secure a close exchange of information with policymakers at the national level, to better understand their information needs, and to enhance the EMN's role in responding quickly to such needs, in appropriate formats.

What does the EMN produce?

Reports

The EMN produces yearly Annual Policy Reports, which outline the most significant political and legislative (including EU) developments, as well as public debates in the area of migration and asylum, within the Member States. Since 2009, these also contribute to the Commission's Annual Reports on Immigration and Asylum, reviewing the progress made in the implementation of asylum and migration policy.

<http://www.emn.europa.eu>

Studies

The EMN also produces Studies, on topics (see below) relevant to policymakers at national and EU levels, to meet both long-term and short-term needs.

How are study topics selected?

Study topics are selected from proposals made by individual or groups of EMN NCP(s) and/or the European Commission, based on their relevance to policymaking in the Member States and the Commission and its agencies. Topics may be proposed for in-depth, strategic studies, with long-term relevance, or for shorter, focussed studies to meet a short-term information need. The Steering Board reviews and formally approves the selection of topics within the context of an annual EMN Work Programme.

How does the EMN produce its studies?

Common specifications for a main study, and a common template for a focussed study are first developed, to facilitate better comparability. Each EMN NCP produces a National Report/Contribution, according to the common specifications / template and often involving contributions from members of their national network. A comparative Synthesis Report is then produced, bringing together the main findings from the national responses, and placing these within an EU perspective (e.g. by relating to recent policy initiatives).

What Studies has the EMN produced so far?

These are listed here and via the hyperlinks you can download both the Synthesis Report and the corresponding National Reports:

1. Practical responses for reducing irregular migration (2012);
2. Visa Policy as Migration Channel (2012);
3. Temporary and circular migration: empirical evidence, current policy practice and future options in EU Member States (2011);
4. Satisfying labour demand through migration in EU Member States (2011).
5. The different national practices concerning granting of non-EU harmonised protection statuses (2010);
6. Programmes and strategies in the EU Member States fostering Assisted Return to and Re-integration in Third Countries (2010);
7. Policies on reception, return and integration arrangements for, and numbers of, unaccompanied minors – an EU comparative study (2010);
8. The Organisation of Asylum and Migration Policies in the EU Member States (2009);
9. Family Reunification (2008).

In 2012, the main study will focus on the issue of the migration of international students to EU Member States. The first focussed study will address the topic of abuse of residence permits for the purpose of family reunification, including marriage of convenience and false declaration of paternity. Topics to be addressed later may include challenges and practices for establishing applicants' identity in the migration process, and intra-EU mobility of third-country nationals.

Ad-Hoc Queries

Are a means by which EMN NCPs and the Commission can collect information from the network in a relatively short time on a wide range of asylum- and migration-related issues, e.g. legal migration, irregular migration, borders, return, visas etc. The network produces compilations of the responses to Ad-Hoc Queries, which rapidly assess the perspective of responding Member States in relation to a specific topic.

Policy Briefs: EMN Inform

These provide succinctly key findings and messages to policymakers on a specific topic based on the results of information gathered and analysed by the EMN, for example, from Reports and Studies, or from Ad-Hoc Queries.

EMN Bulletin

These provide up to date, topical information required by, and of relevance to, policymakers on a quarterly basis. They highlight recent EU and National developments, and relevant information extracted from the EMN's existing knowledge, plus latest published statistics, primarily from Eurostat.

EMN Glossary and Thesaurus

The EMN Glossary improves comparability by enabling a common understanding and use of terms and definitions relating to asylum and migration. The Glossary draws on a variety of sources, primarily those given in the EU asylum and immigration acquis, and makes these available in the majority of Member State languages. The Glossary has subsequently been used to develop an EMN Thesaurus, which will permit the structured documenting and searching of documents.

EMN Status Reports

The EMN produces an annual Status Report, reporting on its activities and achievements. The Status Report is adopted as a Commission Staff Working Paper and formally transmitted to the European Parliament, the Council, the Commission, the Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions.

Where can I find more information?

All EMN reports and studies, including the National Reports and Synthesis Reports, Ad-Hoc Query compilations, Quarterly Reports and EMN Informs, are published on the EMN website.

Further information, including the EMN's various outputs, is available from: <http://www.emn.europa.eu>
