1. Background Information

The French NCP is currently in the process of organizing its first national meeting to develop its national network. In that context, it would be very interesting to learn how your national network is constituted.

The Council Decision of 14 May 2008 establishing the European Migration Network mentions that “each National Contact Point should establish a national migration network, composed of organizations and individuals active in the area of migration and asylum, and including, for example, universities, research organizations and researchers, governmental and non-governmental organizations and international organizations, in order to enable all relevant stakeholders to be heard.”

In that perspective, we would like to ask the following questions:

- Is your national network made up of public administrations, NGOs, associations, universities, and/or researchers? Do you collaborate with other entities?
- Could you send us the list of the main entities you are working with? Are you satisfied with the current composition of your national network or do you think you should privilege certain entities more than others?

2. Responses<sup>1</sup>

	Austria	Yes	The Austrian National Network is composed of different stakeholders active in the field of asylum and migration issues in Austria (NGOs, associations, universities as well as researchers). You can find a list of all contacts at our national website: http://www.emn.at/module-Content-main-idc-2.phtml However please notice that we are currently also revising and enlarging the network especially to new institutions, NGOs and researchers.
	Belgium	Yes	Notre réseau consiste surtout des autres administrations et des chercheurs/universités et moins des ONG. On n'a pas vraiment une liste officielle des membres nationaux. Administrations: surtout des administrations qui sont aussi partiellement responsable pour le domaine de migration/asile: Affaires Etrangères (visa; ambassadeur pour la migration); Police (trafic; retour; immigration illégale;...) Justice (nationalité; mineurs non-accompagnés; etc.), Travail (permis de travail), Intégration Sociale,... ça dépend bien-sûr aussi des études /ad hoc queries: par exemple on a fait une étude en 2006 sur la "Migration in the health sector": alors on a aussi contacté SPF Santé Public. Cela dépend des programmes de travail annuels. chercheurs/universités: en Belgique il y a une vingtaine des chercheurs (venant d'une 5 universités/institutions: par exemple: http://www.cedem.ulg.ac.be/ ; http://www.ulb.ac.be/socio/germe/index.htm ) qui travaillent plus ou moins temps plein sur migration/intégration et avec qui nous avons de temps en temps contact (avec les uns plus que les autres bien-sûr). Une bonne méthode pour développer est de sous-traiter des études/travail. ONG: On travaille avec quelques ONG dans le cadre du EMN (conférences; ad hoc queries; newsletter; diffusion des études) mais pas très profondément. Quelques autres organismes parfois: syndicats; associations des employeurs. Organismes internationaux: IOM; European Policy Center; Centre for European Policy Studies, etc. Le PCN belge a la chance que c'est composé de différents institutions (Office des Etrangers; Commissariat-général pour les réfugiés; Centre pour l'égalité des chances et Direction statistique de la SPF Economie) et ça facilite clairement le networking.

	Bulgaria	Yes
	Cyprus	Yes
	Czech Republic	Yes	A présent, notre réseau national se compose des membres de l'administration publique (y compris la police et la service statistique) et des universitaires. Nous y avons de plus l'institut de la recherche en affaires sociales et du travail et l'Institut des informations sur l'éducation, ce qui sont des organisations établies par des ministères, et puis encore l'OIM. Nous allons approcher des ONG dans la seconde moitié de 2010. Toutefois, nous regardons les gens de la recherche scientifique les plus importants partenaires et nous voulons se concentrer vers la collaboration avec eux afin d'avoir et faire accès aux issues de la recherche. Nous sommes en train de développer la site-internet du PNC tchèque qui donnera cet accès et nous organisons une publication des essais sur la recherche en migrations par plusieurs membres du réseau national.
	Denmark	Yes
	Estonia	Yes	On behalf of Estonian NCP I may say that we are under public administration - The Estonian Public Service Academy is a state institution, providing professional education for civil servants belonging in the area of government under the Estonian Ministry of the Interior. In our NCP there is 3 full-time workers. At the moment we are establishing our webpage and we have very widespread collaboration with our national network – Estonian Ministry of Interior, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Social Affairs, Ministry of Justice, Police- and Border guard Board, IOM and many NGO-s. Par example for working out the glossary terms we establish last year working group which consists of governmental institutions and also of Estonian Language Institute. With main cooperation institutions we have also the cooperation agreements. The main NGOs are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- IOM</li> <li>- The Integration and Migration Foundation Our People (MISA) http://www.meis.ee/first-page ;</li> <li>- Centre Johannes Mihkelson (refugee project) and</li> <li>- Estonian Institute for Human Rights http://www.eihr.ee/Eng/IndexEng.html .</li> </ul>

			The development of the national network is one of my responsibilities as the co-ordinator of the FI EM NCP. I promote the network by making visits to universities (went to the two northernmost universities in Finland last week, the University of Oulu and the University of Lapland), and by inviting different institutions to visit us. Another way of garnering new members is in the course of our everyday work of writing the thematic studies and trying to find out who would be the best person to answer a particular ad hoc-question. As we contact these people and organisations, we at the same time introduce what we do and invite them to become EMN national network members. We currently have 13 organisations on our roster. They represent governmental and municipal actors, research institutions, international organisations, religious denominations, NGO's and news media. So far, as far as getting help from the national network members in completing the EMN work programme (for example information received to cover certain specifications in the EMN studies and information needed to respond to ad hoc-questions) we have had most co-operation with government entities. The list is as follows: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. 			prjects dealing with migration issues (either EU-funded or with other funding sources) and they can be extremely useful sources for gathering information needed for the EMN thematic study reports. Currently we have 32 researchers / students in our register. We can utilise Universtiy placement students as free labour for 2 - 3 month stints, and we have started a policy that we take students who have joined our network. If you click the list below, you see that like with the Organisational members, by clicking on the name on the right hand column the special research interests of the person can be seen. The persons can update their own info by forwarding it to us. This is a way for the reserachers to network and find out who may have information on a certain topic regarding migration issues, which they have need to find out more for some reason. Some of the researches are attached to different universities in Finland, for example Dr Marianne Teräs from Helsinki University, representing different interests, such as integration, multiculturalism, international refugee issues, etc. or to a government department, such as the Education dept for example as is the case with Mr Mikko Cortes-Telles http://www.emn.fi/kansallinen_verkosto/tutkijat THE PROCEDURE FOR JOINING: One can join the network by filling out an electronic form on our website. The info about joining the national network and the form itself are available also in English, as there are for example foreign researchers residing in Finland with no, or only limited ability, in Finnish, who may be interested in joining our network, and indeed this has already happened. Only once so far have we turned down an applicant. He was not living in Finland and his interests were not with migration issues at all. It was someone who was trying to sell products via Internet. http://www.emn.fi/in_english/sign_up_as_a_member Just to end with the note that the national WebPages have been instrumental in getting our national network started up. This way they can feel they can also gain something from participating in our work.
	France	Yes	The French NCP is currently in the process of building up its national network. One of the main actions will be to organize its first national meeting.
	Germany	Yes
	Greece	Yes
	Hungary	Yes	The Hungarian national network is very colourful as it is made up of public administrations (ministries, Office of Immigration and Nationality, Police, Central Statistical Office), NGOs, associations, universities, and researchers as well. Among the members there are also independent experts not representing any organisation or body. When setting up our national network it was our priority to involve as many type of actors, stakeholders working in the field of migration and asylum as possible. We are very happy with this diverse composition and we are still aiming at enlarging our national network. Of course, when answering ad hoc queries or elaborating a study

Invited speakers will include those from a research/university and policymaking background.

			Our communications strategy ensures the UK NCP maintains regular contact with network members to promote upcoming events and link organisations together. It includes an occasional newsletter and a regular email circular, as well as national network meetings and face-to-face meetings with current and potential network members. Through these communications we have also identified key members with whom we hope to collaborate to deliver future network activities.
